The Maya World Extension is a two night & three day inland adventure to Crooked Tree Wildlife Sanctuary, home to some of the best birding and wildlife viewing in Belize. You will explore Spanish Creek, Revenge Lagoon and the surrounding wetlands by boat – a great opportunity to see many birds including northern jacanas, white ibis, wood storks and the huge jabiru stork. Visit Crooked Tree, one of Belize's oldest Creole settlements, then journey into the world of the ancient Maya. Visit the Mayan ruin of Altun Ha, known for the impressive temple of the Sun God. Tour the ancient city of Lamanai, returning by boat along the intriguing New River lagoon, with opportunities to spot parrots, toucan and Morelet's Crocodiles. This extension combines easily with other IE trips, and is a great way to experience Belize's astounding diversity of birds and wildlife, as well as its ancient Mayan culture.

Typical Daily Itinerary:

Day 1: Travelers beginning their Island Expeditions trip with this extension will arrive at the Belize International Airport. An Island Expeditions' representative will meet you and assist with transfers to Birds Eye View Lodge in the Crooked Tree Wildlife Sanctuary. After checking into your accommodations, you'll have a chance to meet your fellow travelers. Explore the nearby Creole village of Crooked Tree, and settle into the rhythm of 'Belizean Time'. Transfers from the airport are included.

Accommodation: Bird's Eye View Lodge

Meals: Dinner

Day 2: After breakfast your group departs for the ancient Mayan city of Lamanai. You'll go on an extensive guided tour, visiting the many temples, plazas, palaces, and museums within the park boundaries. Depart Lamanai by boat for a return trip to the Crooked Tree area. On this scenic journey, you'll have tremendous birding and wildlife opportunities. Anticipate spotting iguanas, parrots, toucans and even Morelet's crocodile along the banks of the New River Lagoon. Upon arriving on the shore, you'll travel overland for 45 minutes back to Crooked Tree Village and our lodge.

Meals: Breakfast, Lunch, Dinner

Day 3: With an early morning coffee and binoculars in hand, you can enjoy the waking wilderness and hundreds of birds feeding along the shores of the Crooked Tree Wildlife Sanctuary Lagoons. This protected area was created in 1984 primarily to preserve resident and migratory birds. It consists of a network of inland lagoons, swamps, and waterways that shelter one of the world's largest flying birds, the jabiru stork. After breakfast, enjoy a morning boat tour in the lagoons.

After lunch, you'll have time to relax and gather your bags before departing to the Mayan site of Altun Ha. Altun Ha is considered one of the major Mayan ceremonial centers of Belize. It officially dates as far back as 600 BC, and functioned as an important trading center between the interior and the Caribbean Sea during the classic period (250-900 AD). Within this site, there are the remains of more than 275 archaeological structures and 250 to 300 unexcavated mounds.

"The guides were very good at spotting things we would never have seen. They were very friendly and taught us alot about Belize - the country, people, culture and natural history. Birds Eye View Lodge was a perfect location and has good amenities."
