Our first introductory dive on the Belize Barrier Reef will assess your ability level and make sure our equipment fits properly. We return to the lodge for lunch and a siesta. Staying one more night? Your adventure continues...

"As soon as we dipped our masks in the water, we knew it was going to be great – so many fish, so much colour, it was almost sensory overload. We saw Sargeant Majors, Stoplight Parrotfish, Blue Tangs, Black Durgons and all sorts of Angelfish, just to name a few. We were also visited by a few barracudas, stingrays, spotted eagle rays and nurse sharks, but the coolest sighting had to be a massive loggerhead turtle casually cruising through the water. Our dive masters were extremely professional, well prepared, and knew the area intimately"

Day 4: For those in our multisite package, we rise for an early breakfast and prepare to head out to one of Belize's most spectacular dive locations, Glovers Reef Atoll. After a quick dock briefing, we travel out past the barrier reef and into the blue waters of the outer atolls. The boat slows as we approach the turquoise horizon and the shallow waters of Glover' Reef. We suit up to dive into fore reef, descending to the east reef wall, facing the open pelagic sea. After returning to the surface, we have a picnic lunch on a secluded private beach. Following lunch, we head westward to dive into the spectacular "Western Wall" of Glover's Reef. We then return to Tobacco Caye for a happy hour and to toast the sun going down for our last night.
